Naturalization Made Easy.

It will be seen by reference to our Dominion Mail Summary that Mr Cameron, member of the Canadian House of Commons for Huron, has introduced a Bill which proposes to confer the right of citizenship on all persons residing in the country previous to Confederation, the country previous to Confederation, or who shall take the oath of allegiance. This is a matter of considerable importance to British Columbia, regarded as a Province of the Dominion. The entire population of this colony, exclusive tire population of this colony, exclusive to a borigines and Asiatics, does not in all probability exceed ten thousand persons. Of that number probably one-third are allons. If the measure introduced into the Dominion Parliament should pass into law it is presumable that it would have the effect of conferdations. that it would have the effect of confer-ring the right of citizenship upon all who might be resident in the colony at the time of the proclamation of its admission into the Union; and it would further enable all to become British subjects by simply taking the oath of alle-In so far as the former prinpiple is concerned, we find it recognized by our powerful neighbor. Whenever a Territory of the Union is received as a State all residents become entitled to the right of citizenship. We will say at once that, in so far as British Columbla is concerned, we think such a pro-vision would not only be proper but eminently desirable. As has been said, no inconsiderable proportion of the present population is composed of foreigners. Many of these are amongst our most enterprising and substantial merchants, traders, miners, farmers, mechanics, and it would be at once a graceful and a wise act to offer to such the rights of citizenship, upon the colony becoming a Province of the Dominion, Of course it would be altogether optional with such whether or not they would avail themselves of the offer; but to make it would be a nice recognition of the important part they have acted in opening np and developing the country. If the subject were one which could be dealt with by the local legislature, we would recommend the enactment of such a law; but, inasmuch as this is one of a class of subjects falling within the scope of Federal functions, we should be glad to become law. In so far as the other proposition is concerned, we are disposed to regard its introduction into this colony with doubt and disfavor. We have said that the Dominion cannot afford to be less liberal in this matter than her neighbor. Neither, perhaps, can she afford to be more liberal. It is very probable that no danger need be apprehended in the older and more thickly settled Provinces from a provision enabling foreigners to be suddenly trans-ly questionable whether such an ar-danger to this colony, and very probably and, in some districts, possibly carry our elections. In this respect, we do not we should be any more liberal than our neighbor. There are not wanting reasons why we should not be more liberal just yet.

The following is a condensed summary from Canadian exchanges up to the 20th In the House of Commons on the 17th the Hos J Howe read a telegram from Fort Gara ray respecting alleged disturbances at Mani-toba, showing that all was quiet there up to the 1st.

On the same day Sir Francis Hincks moved the House into Committee on the Bill to establish one uniform currency for the Doeral amendments were moved by members from the Maritime Provinces, but they were voted down by very large majorifrom the Governor General, asking the favorable consideration of the House to resolutions with respect to the admission of British Chambia.

Intions with respect to the admission of British Columbia.

In the Secate on the 16th Senator Miller drew attention to the subject of salaries to the Lieutenant Governors of the various provinces. He said that, at the commencement of Confederation, a great mistake had been made in fixing the salaries entirely too low. He claimed that the scary paid the Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia was wholly inadequate to the dignity and responsibility of the position. The Hon Mr Campbell admitted that there was much force in the remarks of Mr Miller respecting the Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia, but it was not the intention of the Government to disturb the existing arrangements during the present existing arrangements during the present existing arrangements during the personal session.

On the same day considerable discussion took place in the Senate as to whether the resolutions relative to the admission of British Columbia should be introduced simultaneously into both Houses. The Hon Mr Campbell thought best that they should be treated in the Commons before being taken up in the Senate. He said that, supposing the Senate committed itself to the resolutions, and the Commons refused to change the public revenue with the monies necessary tions, and the Commons retused to energe
the public revenue with the monies necessary to carry out the scheme, the Schale would be placed in a lalse position.

In the House of Commons, on the same day, Mr Mills moved for a statement showing the kind and quantity of articles imported into British Columbia during the last fiscal year of which there were any available returns, showing the duties collected and the amount which would have been collected had the Conadian tariff been in operation. Hon Mr Tilley said the whole of the papers would be supplied as specify as possible.

On the same day, in reply to a question from hon Mr Dorion, Sir Geo E Cartier said the last information that Government had received from Manitoba was on the night of amation had been found, and that a preamation had been issued to hold the clost.

s, but no information whatever had been red corroborating any of those newsgar reports [a laugh]. The telegram came from St Cloud and was dated March 14. The sensational news come from Chicegg, and he noticed that further news from St Panh, while it space of trat excitemen drawn for the present.

Mr M C Cameron [Huron] moved the second reading of a Bill to amend an Act respecting aliens and naturalization. The object of the measure was to facilitate the naject of the measure was to facilitate the na-uralization of alices. It proposed to confer theright of citizenship on all persons residing in the country previous to Confederation or taking the oath of allegiance. Sir Geo E Cartier said while he approved of the bill as a whole, it contained provisions which were objectionable. He would not, however, refer to them until the Bill was referred to com-mittes. When in London the Colonial Samittee. When in London, the Colonial Secretary referred to this subject and said there would be no objection to endo sing any legis-lation on the part of the Dominion Parliament with regard to naturalization, but that care should be taken in dealing with for-eigners who were connected with scalaring pursuits. It was therefore necessary in the enactment of naturalization laws to exercise to a special committee.

A most disgraceful outrage was commit-ted at an election meeting is South Simons. While Mr R T Fergueon, M P, was speaking one Ross commenced to throw rotten eggs at him. Ross was ejected by order of the Chairman, At the close of the meeting as Mr Ferguson was leaving he was brutally assaulted by Ross with a slung-skot and dangers of the control situated.

NEWS! NEWS!

The "British Colonist" is the only Newspaper published at Victoria that receives the Lacat Telegraphic Dispatches, Having, consequently, the largest circulation, its value as an Advertising Medium is apparent.

The French Situation.

God help France! for, in her madness, she would really seem determined to place her self beyond the help of man. Paris has suffered more from her own citizens than she did at the hands of a foreign enemy. Those who made but a poor attempt to protec her against an invading army appear bent upon destroying what the Germans left. Led on by a fanatical foreigner, they are perpetratthe foulest and most cowardly on rages in the name of patriotism. The news conveyed in our Exclusive Di patch last night hears a lightly more encouraging complexion. ment forces appear to have gained Government forces appear to have gained some advantages yeaterday, and it may yet be hoped that the more energy to efforts now being put forth by the only legitimate authorities will soon result in the re-establishment of peace and o der. If it be so that the supplies in Paris are giving out, that circumstance will gradly aid the army outside, as famine will tend to cool the arder of the insurgents.

A WORD OF ADVICE-If the Standard bester would pay more attention to the columns of his rapidly sinking paper and less to these of his flourishing neighbor, we doubt not he would afford his few remaining greaders greater satisfaction. Here is an instance or two in point: In February last we shounced on the authority of a San Francisco paper brought by the direct seamer, that the ship Ben Aymar from Burrard Intel, had put into the port of Ac pulco, Mexico and had been condemned. On the 7th meant the Sandard polished the same par agraph....On the 11th of last mouth we published the fleight and shippers' lat the brig Robert Jones. On the 8th of the present mouth the Standard furnished the same information .. More than two weeks ago our Exclusive Dispatch announced the part Thomas and Lecompte, and the attack on Lord Lyons by Sir Robert Peel in the British House of Commons. On the fol-lowing day the Standard copied the same dispatch without oredit. Last week a Puget Sound paper copied the dispatch and yesterday the Standard reproduced it, word for word, as a local item!... Yesterday again, he steals our Exclusive Telegram from Ottacoolly declares that the part related in Tilley is notice. In a month the will ascertain that the dispatch is true and will then publish it as special to himself.....These are a few out of many blanders and thefts our cotemporary has been guilty of within the past few weeks. We have grown tired of correcting and exposing him, and finding that allusion to him to one issue of the Colonier advertises his journal more extensively than lifty issues Standard would do, we shall benceforth leave him as verely alone. As the Southern poet remarked to the blue-bottle that buzzed inconveniently near his head, so we remar to our cotemporary,
"Shoo Fly ! don't bodder us !"

THEATRE ROYAL, -That sensational drama entitled 'Lost in London, or the Elopement will be played at the Theatre Royal to-mor row evening. Mrs Beatty takes the part of Nellie Armroyd, in which she appears to great advantage, and Mr Beatty makes a slashing Job. The leading incidents in the piece are the miner's home, the aboutton or Nellie, the fire damp, the choke damp, the injured husband's mission, splendid misery remoree and represch meeting of the feste sisters, the recognition, betrayed and betray or, heartbroken husband, the signal the duck death of Neilie. This truly sensational processil be followed by the sidesplitting farce entitled 'Object of Interest.'

MATINEE. There will be a marices per formance at the Theatre Royal at 2 p. m. or Saturday, when the touching, highly mora and salutary piece, . The Drunkard's Child will be produced, in which May Welle, as the child, wrings teats from every eye, and in which Mr Beatty plays the role of the Drunkard with such powerful effect, Mrs Beatty, as the Drunkard's Wife, making the andience fairly soo. This will present a fine opportunity for the young folks to witness a play which ought to make them be e;

The French Relief Fund.

Never before was an audience so large. o brilliant and so appreciative gathered within the four walls of the Theatre Royal as that which last night listened to the French Musical Soirce; and upon no previous occasion when the finer feelings of occasion when the finer feelings of human nature have been appealed to, has the assistance rendered been more generous or valuable. The response of Victoria to the appeal of the suffering French people was as noble and hearty as, we feel confident, would have been the case in France were England herself prostrate at the feet of a foe. Other and larger communities may give larger sums of money, but now will respond to the call of money, but none will respond to the call more spontaneously or generously than Vic-

The interest taken in the coirce was not confined to the children of France; — all classes and all nationalities volunteered to assist, and all will experience the pleasurable feeling that they have contributed towards relieving 'hearts oppressed with woe antold!' Among the audience were His Excellency the Governor and Mrs Musgrave and suite, and most of our prominent citizens

The interior of the building was handsome-The interior of the building was handsomely decorated with evergreens and branches. The stage, prosecution and private boxes were hung with the flags of France, Great Britain and the United States, while everhead was suspended the beautiful banner of the French Benevolent Society. Across the top of the stage appeared the inscription— 'Victoria les Franceise Recomissants Viewed from the stage, the appearance Viewed from the stage the appearance was very fine and the general effect was heightened by the brilliant dresses of the fair ex, who appeared in full opera costume.

The vocal and instrumental pieces were all well rendered. The choruses were especially good, while some of the instrumental and vocal solos swinced much taste in selection and inlent in execution. The amateur performance—after an overture by the orchestra which was executed with excellent taste—commenced with the chorus of Exil et Retour. The soles were well sustained by Messrs Felix and Lombard, and the piece clicited applause; but not so much as we thick it merited. A song by M. Felix—Vive I'Orage—was poured forth in a full, rich batitone and gave the liveliest satisfaction. Mrs Beckingham part sang Minuit Chretiens in a delightfully clear sorrang, and religed amid a delightfully clear soprano, and retired amid much a plaue. In Tears I Pine was sung in English by Mr C Lombard with excellentaste. It is a piece well suited to that genteman's fine tenor voice. Mr White followed with The Bloom is on the Rys, which he sang in spleodid tyle. Next came a gem—When Swellows Build—by Mrs Charles Kent, who never, in our opinion, sang with better effect or indement. Mrs Kent was better effect or judgment. Mrs Kent was accompanied by Miss Harris on the piano forte. A charming piece and charmingly object was the piano duet,—Overture to the Poet and Peasant—by Mrs Sutro and Mrs Sutro. Both ladies appear to have a thorough knowledge of the instrument therefore and won for the fair vocalist a beauty nond of their performance was so good that they met with great applause. My Heart's Delight, a sweet, pretty ballud, was sung by Miss Denny [accompanied by Mr Digby Palmer] in a vivacious and goodnatured manner that pleased the audience immensely and won for the fair vocalist a hearty nound of anolause. Mr Felix mond of bearty round of applause. Mr Felix next gave the audience a taste of the opera boufe in Le Beau Nicolas. He was dressed and acted in true comedy style and song the song amid the laughter and cheers of the house, The song was rapturenely encored.

Miss Rhodes [accompanied by Mrs Blum] eang in a sweet soprano and with excellent judgment, My Mother Bids Me Bind my Hair, and was very much applauded. A duett—Holy Mother Guide his Footsteps— was sung by Mrs Higgins and Miss Pidwell. M. L Luca followed with Les Lilas on Fluere no more soul-stirring song is extent, con-cluded the first part. It was enthusiastically cheered and an encore demanded and given.

The second part opened with the chorus of Marie a sa Toilette, the solos of which were sustained by M. Felix. Miss S Redfero [who sustained by M. Felix. Miss S Redfere [who was accompanied by Miss Harri-] then gave in a charming manner The Merry Black-bird's Song, with fine effect which called for h hearty plaudits. The dust Sul Campo Division of the Sul Campo [Dopizetti], by Mrs Rhodes and Chief Jusice Begbie, accompanied on the piano by Mrs Blum, was exquisitely sung and proved a musical treat—sue of the best efforts of the evening. It met with high favor and just escaped an encore. Roberto, tot que j'aime, by Mrs Garssche, accompanied by Mrs Blum, was loudly applauded Mrs Garssche possesses a powerful and glear appraire which she has under clear soprano voice, which she has under complete control and uses with judgment. tlemen created merriment, though somewhat out of place, when we consider the intellectual and refined character of the antertainment. The duett on the violin and pianoforte, by Messrs Palmer and Rigazzoni, was a beautiful selection from Lucia de Lammermoor. It was listened to with marked attention, and being admirably played, a ropetition was demanded. Mrs Beckingham sang Jeanne D'Arc, and is entitled to high praise for the faultless manner in which the song was delivered. eanna Pourquoi N'es tu Pasla was given by Mr Lo in Curta with great leeling and saste, the audience manifesting their entire appro-val. The woral (male) 'gem of the evening was a duet by Mesars Felix and Lombard— Les Deux Freres d'Armes. It was sung in the most admirable and artistic manner. Both gentlemen were enabled to exert their fine, ringing tenor voices to great advantage and when the song had ended the applaues was designing. Mr Palmer played the ac-companiment. Mrs Rhodes (accompanied companient. Mrs 1840des (accompanied by Mrs Blum) sang Si tu Savais with much spirit and aumination. This solo was generally pronounced one of the best executed of the evening. Then You'll Renember Me, (Bohemian Girl) by Mr. Charles E. Redfern was most delightfully sung, and after the chorus of Le Chalet, the nucleone rose to their feet and since the since dience rose to their feet and joined in singing the National Authem, after which the so ended the most successful amateur con-cert, from every point of view, ever held in this city.

The concert was under the able direction of Mr J J Austin, of the Lands and Works Department, whose valuable and efficient ervices cannot be too highly complimented Mr Digby Palmer, who accompanied the choruses and many solos and duetts, and Mrs Blum and Miss Harris, who accompanied several of the vocalists, are entitled to high raise for the excellence of their effects.

Jas Cabel, a Cowichan Indian, was arrested yesterday on a charge of violating the game trdinance; the prisoner pleaded guilty and the court deferred judgement for two days.

CHARLES MATHEWS .-- Our Sydney exchanges notice in very flattering terms the farewell performance given at the Prince of Wales Opera House in that city by Mr and Mrs Mathews. At the close of the performance a complimentary address was presented to Mr Mathews. The presentation of the address was followed by deafening ap-plause, at the close of which Mr Mathews replied, in the course of which the following amusing scene occured: Mr Mathews said:—"The flattering compliments paid to me are the more gratifying as I am perfectly at a loss to conceive who the eminen at a loss to conceive who the eminent gentleman can be by whom the address was written." Mrs Mathews here stepped forward, and exclaimed—" Fie, Charlie, how can you say so, when you know it was Mr Dalley." (Roars of laughter.) Mr Mathews: "There now that's the way with women; they never can keep a secret. Well then.—Ten thousand thanks to Mr Dalley." PUGET SOUND ITEMS .- A bazar will be
